The War Department has ordered Lieut. Col. J. B. Magruder to proceed to Fort Leavenworth without delay.

Rev. G. S. Starks, principal of the State Female College, at Memphis, Tenn., died last week.

In Richmond, on Sunday, Rev. Henry A. Wise, jr., was ordained a priest in the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Dr. Rutland has been convicted at Clarksville, Tenn., of killing his wife, and sentenced to three years in the State Prison. The proposition to annex West Florida to Alabama has been voted down at a recent Stephen H. Branch, it is rumored, has gone to California to escape a prosecution for a libel upon Madame Bagioli.

Asa M. Wyman, s revolutionary veteran, is still living in Windham County, Vermont, at the extraordistry age of one hundred and six years. His mental faculties are still sound.

Tt is rumored that the late Senator Broderick, before the duel, made a will, in which he leaves all his property to George Wilkes, of New York City. An eccentric individual named Henry D. Thorneau preached in Boston on Sunday. Mr. Thorneau has lived until within a short time in a hut by himself, in the woods, beween Concord and Lincoln. Colonel Thomas Henry, formerly of the United States Army, but more recently of Walker's Nicaraguan Army, challenged Colonel Frank Anderson, at New Orleans, last week. The latter refused to fight on the ground that he had never injured Colonel Henry.

The Terre Haute (Ind.) Express says a chap is there exhibiting rattlesnakes, who swallows about twenty inches of one, with its fangs and poison in their natural condition. Whether he swallows the head or tail it don't say. He is a professor, of course, and his

The San Antonio (Texas) papers state that James Beardall, a soldier who was stationed at Fort Lancaster, has been tried in that city for the murder of an old man named Louis Vare, near Fort Lancaster, in February, 1858, and found guilty of murder in the first degree. The divorce docket of the Supreme Court, now in session in Providence, R. I., contains eighty-three petitions for release from matrimony. The court appears to be deter-mined to keep up with the business, and in a single hour removed the yoke from the neck of twelve discontented couples. The Richmond Enquirer states that Mr. Letcher, the Governor elect of Virginia, is lying at home in a very dangerous condition from an attack of crysipelas, a disease to which for some time back he has been subject, but which now is more formidable than usual.

One of our scientific exchanges says that a powder has been discovered in the of Science in Paris, consisting of chalk and the residue of coke after the gas has been exhausted, from which a paste is made which will completely remove both smell and infection from wounds and sores.

It is rumored that a new paper of the funny kind, illustrated, is soon to be catablished, by an entirely new set of artists, satirists and capitalists. New York new possesses three men, at least, who are clever enough for Punch—Bellew, McLennan, and

"Yes," said a kind mother, of one of our city churches, helping her little son learn his Sunday school lesson, "Cain was a fugitive and vagabond on the earth; he was so bad that he thought every man would slay him. Where could wicked Cain go to?" "Why, mother," replied thoughtful Johnny, "Cain could have gone to Baltimore."

At the Eric County (N. Y.,) fair, last week, there was a young girl, sixteen years of age, who had with her a box of snakes, comprising several rattlesnakes, copper-heads, California racers, and others, all of the most venomous character. These snakes she handled in the most fearless manner, winding then about her no ., waist and arms.

The ship Josiah Quincy, whose loss i reported, was on the voyage from Leghorn to Boston. She had on board a very valuable collection of works of art, belonging to our citizens, who have recently visited Italy. The paintings, bronzes, books, photographs, basreliefs, ancient arms and armor, and statuary that sunk in her, cost many thousands of dol-

John A. Washington has "suspended." It was stated, some time since, that he had invested $175,000 of the money he received for the bones of his great ancestor in corner lots in Chicago. The presumption was that he had paid over the cash for them; but it seems that he gave his notes for them, and they have gone to protest.

The city of New Orleans is overrun at night, by men in masks, who commit all sorts of outrages. The Bee says: Many families living in the portion of the city infested by these masked men have become seriously slarmed, and are afraid to walk the streets after dark. Many of them are afraid to speak of the matter lest the maskers should wreak vengeance upon them.

Parish, La., visited the house of Bernard Lacouture, who had been "warned" on the night of the 30th ult., and calling him to the door, shot him dead. The mother of the victic attempted to get a warrant for the arrest of his murderers, but the Magistrate refused to receive her statement, and the Coroner resigned rather than hold an inquest over the body.

The London Court Circular has a funny about a lady, named Colson, residing in story about a lady, named Colson, residing in Hyde Park Terrace, who, more than sixteen years ago, resolved "never to see the light of day again," from having been disappointed in her matrimonial views with Colonel H——.

Ever since the year 1843, this eccentric maiden has lived and slept in a chamber from which all light is rigidly excluded, save what is furnished to her by the wax chandlers of Piccadilly.

Letters have been received in England from Doctor Livingstone, the African travelor. At last accounts he was at Expedition Island, having witnessed various battles between the having witnessed various battles between the Portuguese and the natives of the country, in which the latter were badly defeated. In one case the natives were found in possession of many pieces of bronze cannon. He had a very narrow escape from death by drowning, and expected to leave soon for Tete. In his journey he speaks of having seen some curious and remarkable people.

At the Smithsonian Institution the has been recently received a specimen plank of the great California pine, well calculated to give an idea of the vastness of that monarch of the forests on the Pacific. The tree it was cut from was twelve feet in diameter, and probably had a hight not far from three hundred St. Thomas, West side Sycamore, between Fifth and Sixth.

Unamiable Women in Railroad Cars. The Hartford Courant is exceedingly indignant at some of the women passengers on the railroad lines. He says on their Connecticut

Almost every woman claims two seats for her precious self, and one, to use a Vir-ginia expression, "to tote her plunder." It makes no difference how many men are stand-ing up, the fair creatures must have room. times some befounced woman, (we never some sene behaviored woman, (we never use the word lady in such a connection,) spreads herself and her traps over four seats. She pays but for one. The conductors, amiable men as they are, never interfere to give every traveler his equal rights. They probably are too much henpecked at home to make the women do justice abroad.

There is nothing that so strengly exhibits the utterly unamiable character of a woman as this cold, hsughty contempt of the rights and comforts of others. A man who is in love with a girl should, before he declares himself, witness how she conducts hernelf in a crowded car. It is a good criterion of her selfishness. She will never make a good wife or mother.

It is recommended to the masculines to form a "Man's Rights Society," and compel con-ductors to give them seats, when there are any

THE UPS AND DOWNS OF FORTUNE .- A San Francisco correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune writes as follows:

In this city there is a person who certainly took a prominent part in effecting the liberation of the French Emperor from the prison at Ham; he is now poor and in difficulty. His friends recommended him to write to his imperial friend and try to obtain some grateful recollection of his former services. But another fact is really serious, and illustrates what strange conditions of fortune sometimes fell to the lot of mankind. A gentleman, well known here as a respectable and relia-ble citizen, as he is a thorough and experieaced business man, states that when Louis Napoleon was in New York he was so poor that he was unable to obtain enough to eat, except through the charity of some few

Mr. --- was at the time a clerk in a large importing house in Pearl-street, and was inti-mate with the then needy French adventurer. Napoleon was accustomed to come and sit about dinner time on a window-sill on the opposite side of the street, and there wait for the store to close, when he would accompany his friend, who usually paid for his meal at a neighboring restaurant. Napoleon seldom ventured to enter the store for fear of com-promising his friend, both knowing that he would not be tolerated there. Had the proprietors been able to foresee the wonderful and brilliant change destined to occur to his fortunes, perhaps they would have been less exclusive of their policy toward the poor

TRADE AND WAGES IN IRELAND, - It is noticed as an evidence of the changed state of affairs in Ireland, that there has not, for many a day, been so much activity in the building as at the present time. A recent Irish paper

In Dublin, master painters, decorators, &c., find it impossible to procure sufficient men for the works in hand, and wages in those branches especially are increased. A painter of any capacity will get £1 16s. per week. This extraordinary demand is easily accounted for. There has been, since the famine, a steady and very decided increase of wealth in Ireland, extending to landlords, farmers, traders and other classes. Formerly the owners of the soil were sunk deeply in im-providence. But all that is changed now. The owns are improving, country mansions are improved, and many new ones are in course of erection; and so general is the demand for artisans that the supply is inadequate. Be-sides, there are orders for tradesmen of this class from some parts of England, and altogether comployment is much more active and labor is better remunerated than perhaps at any former period. The accounts from Ulster show that employment is more brisk in the linen trade, and that the prospects are im-

Dr. Livingstone's Expedition .- Later new from Dr. Livingstone's expedition is received by the Canada. A letter from the Doctor's companion, Mr. Kirk, states that a trip has been made to a lake elevated considerably above the Zambesi. Mr. Kirk adds: "During our walk, which took us three days, doing about twenty miles a day, we met some curious people, but were glad to find all friendly. I returned thus quickly, as I expected the Doctor back from Tete, wither he had gone on his first trip with the powder, which it would have been unsafe to have left in a country at present at war. I received, however, instead a letter from him, stating that the water was so low at places where the river spreads to an excessive width, that the pinnace could not be taken up at once, until the channel had been previously surveyed by the launch; that the innace was left somewhat a little beyond Scuns, in charge of Baines; that the launch would proceed to Tete, return, pick up the pinnace, and afterward return to Chupanga.

SHARP SHOOTING AND SHARPER PRACTICE The Fredonia (N. Y.) Censor, tells of one of the sharpest betting tricks that we have heard of in some time. A Mr. Jackson Sage made a wager of $500 with some parties in Fredonia that he could shoot fifty consecutive rifle shots off hand, at a target of two and one-fourth inches, at the distance of ten rods, without once missing the mark. He accomplished the feat, but did it by setting up a heavy boiler iron funnel, one foot in diameter at the wider end, and tapering to a size less than that of the mark just in front of the target. He had only to keep his ball within five or six inches of the mark and the funnel took them home, sure. He had the Yankee impudence to claim the stakes after this performance, and we cannot feel certain that he did not deserve them, for his sharp trick, if not for his sharp shooting.

SENATOR BRODERICK .- The editor of the New York News, speaking of the late Senator

Broderick, says: "The day Broderick left New York for California, in 1849, we met him on the steps of the old banking-house of the Bank of the State of New York. He had just drawn his last deliar from that institution. He said to us, "Good bye; I am off for the land of glory." us, "Good bye; I am off for the land of glory."

"Where are you going to, Dave?" we asked.

"To California—never to return until I come back a Senator of the United States." We laughed at this remark, considering it the grandiloquent boast of a reckless, desperate youth, who had as much idea or chance of actually carrying it into execution as he had of becoming King of England."

THE JAPANESE .- A gentleman formerly of The Japanese.—A gentleman formerly of Hartford, Conn., writes from Nagasaki, Japan, to his friends in Boston, that the Japanese are a very interesting people, and have more life, vivacity, and expression about them than the Chinese. As you walk along the streets you are saluted on every side by children with "Ohio" (how are you), and "Boton Kasle" (give me a button). They have a great passion for brass buttons, and the naval officers have almost stripped their coats in making presents. RATES OF ADVERTISING.
